

Postgraduate Diploma in Christian Liturgy

Validated by the University of Winchester

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTOR 2017/18

Please read the following carefully.

Dates and Times

The Postgraduate Diploma is completed part-time over a minimum of two years and a maximum of four years. Students at Sarum College usually complete the diploma within two years. Students who satisfactorily complete six taught modules (120 credits) gain a Postgraduate Diploma awarded by the University of Winchester. Students who satisfactorily complete three taught modules (60 credits), and exit, obtain a Postgraduate Certificate. Further details of student registration and progression are available in the University of Winchester's Common Academic Regulations for Taught Masters Programmes.

All students will begin the Postgraduate Diploma in September. Students attend six 3½ day intensive modules at Sarum College supplemented by preparatory reading, individual study, tutorial support, access to the Sarum College Virtual Learning Environment (SarumLearn) and assessed written work.

All taught modules are worth 20 credits. Students are expected to complete the Core Module (compulsory) and five Optional Modules. This may include any one module from another Sarum MA programme.

For a list of module dates, please refer to the 'Academic Diary 2017-19' document.

Hospitality Costs

Students are not required to stay at Sarum College during a Module, or take up any of the meals. However, if they choose to do so, the hospitality rates are currently: £226 (residential, en-suite), £187 (residential, standard) and £53 (non-residential).

Note: all fees and prices will be reviewed at the beginning of July each year

The residential charge (whether en-suite or standard) covers: bed and breakfast from Monday to Thursday, lunch from Tuesday to Thursday and supper from Monday to Wednesday, plus refreshments throughout.

The non-residential charge covers: supper on days with evening teaching, lunch Tuesday to Thursday, plus refreshments throughout.

As noted above, students can opt out of the hospitality element entirely and are very welcome to bring in their own meals and refreshments.

(Note: occasionally, in the case of bank holidays etc, a Module may run from Tuesday to Friday. All meals referred to in the above would then be shifted along one day e.g. the first evening's supper would be on the Tuesday etc.)

Core Module

Approaches to Liturgical Study (20 Credits)

This module introduces students to the sources and methods used by scholars in the evaluation and interpretation of liturgical forms. These include those used for historical, theological and ritual analysis. It will equip students with skills in the critical evaluation of various sources and create awareness of the presuppositions which lie behind much liturgical scholarship. As further preparation for the degree, students will be introduced to the research and writing skills for work at Master's level.

Optional Modules

The Postgraduate Certificate at Sarum College offers an exceptionally wide range of Optional Modules. Modules on the major topics (Eucharist and Christian Initiation) normally run at least every other year, the others will run every two or three years. Dates of the Optional Modules are available two years in advance to help students plan their programme of study.

The Eucharist (20 Credits)

This module explores the most significant developments of eucharistic worship from the New Testament to the contemporary church. Students will gain an understanding of the theological, historical and social influences upon the Eucharist and the debates surrounding different interpretations of its meaning. Through study of recent ecumenical conversations, students will be encouraged to relate their study to contemporary church contexts.

Christian Initiation (20 Credits)

Many Western Churches have significantly revised their baptismal liturgies in the last fifty years in response to the changing place of the church in society, the fruits of liturgical scholarship in assessing patterns of the early church and ecumenical exchange. This module will examine key historical periods which provide a context for contemporary rites and the theologies which lie behind them. There will be a field visit to consider the liturgical features of a font (for example, Salisbury Cathedral).

Liturgy and Mission (20 Credits)

The church in the west faces new challenges of maintaining and communicating its identity in what is sometimes referred to as a 'post-Christian' society. In this context the practice of public worship is receiving fresh attention as a means of articulating and embodying the missio Dei, the mission of God. This module will explore how recent developments in scholarship and practice are bringing the two disciplines of liturgical studies and missiology into conversation with one another. The module will introduce students to different ways of understanding the relationship between mission and liturgy by analysing the implications and theological assumptions of each approach. Reflection on these issues will be encouraged by close attention given to liturgical examples, drawn from contemporary and historical sources, and policy documents of the church and their critics. Students will be encouraged to reflect critically on the implications of the material discussed for their own liturgical context.

Music in Christian Worship (20 Credits)

Music is a significant feature of much Christian worship, whether chanted psalms, congregational hymns, liturgical texts arranged for choirs or contemporary worship songs. This module explores the variety of musical styles in Christian worship from both historical and contemporary perspectives and draws upon critical themes in musicology, theology and pastoral liturgy. It will equip students to make informed assessments of music choices in the liturgical events of different ecclesial settings. Musical skill or knowledge, while beneficial, is not required.

Liturgy and Time: Calendar and Daily Prayer (20 Credits)

This module will explore the ways in which Christian worship has been influenced by its relationship with time. The study of Daily Prayer and the Church's Year (Calendar) provide the twin foci for this exploration. The way Christians have developed daily patterns of prayer will be investigated, together with the constituent elements of this form of prayer, such as the use of psalms, scripture and intercessory prayer. The historical origins and evolution of the Christian festivals together with their theological and ritual meaning will form the basis of an analysis of annual rhythms of prayer. Contemporary revisions of either Daily Prayer or Calendar will be studied and students will be encouraged to relate their study to their own and other church contexts.

Worship, Art and Architecture (20 Credits)

The space in which Christian worship takes place is influenced by the culture of the age and place as well as ecclesiology. This module will investigate church buildings and their art in significant historical periods in order to highlight the way each artefact is the result of a confluence of variables. The theoretical notion of 'sacred space' will be explored and students will be encouraged to reflect upon the use of liturgical space in specific contexts. There will be a guided tour of the architectural features of a church (e.g. Salisbury Cathedral).

Liturgy and Spirituality (20 Credits)

The module engages with the relationship between spirituality and liturgy. Attention will be paid to complexity of the ways in which they relate, both conceptually and with reference to debates, such as the historic conflict between liturgy and popular piety. Students will have the opportunity to study specific examples of liturgical practice from a variety of Christian traditions, and in so doing develop their ability to interpret liturgical prayer as a form of spirituality.

Liturgy and Culture (20 Credits)

This module will investigate the relationship between liturgy and its changing cultural contexts. This is a topic that has become increasingly important for churches as they reassess their relationship to society and for liturgical studies as churches and scholars recognise the significance of cultural context for liturgical development. The module will introduce students to different ways of understanding the relationship between culture and liturgy, and the implications and theological assumptions of each approach. Reflection on these issues will be in relation to liturgical examples and policy documents of the church and their critics. Students will be encouraged to reflect critically on the implications of the material discussed for their own liturgical context.

Guided Reading in Christian Liturgy (20 Credits)

This module is designed to allow students to undertake a detailed and specialised study of a topic of their own choice in any aspect of the field of Christian liturgy. The topic chosen needs to be sufficiently distinct from other topics that the student has chosen for assessment in the taught modules. Students are supported in the development of their project through tutorials with an academic staff member.

Additional Module Information

The teaching component of each module begins on Monday* afternoon and then run from 9.15am until 5.15 pm on each full day over the next three days. Students may be residential or non-residential. Each intensive course will involve 20 classroom hours. In classroom sessions, learning will occur through a variety of methods, including lectures, discussion groups, and student-led seminars. During this residential portion of the module there will also be time for meeting with tutors and use of the library. Tutorial support (by visits, skype, telephone or email) for each module will be available until the completion of the assessed written work. Students receive further support through the Virtual Learning Environment (SarumLearn) which will offer students access to key reading materials, discussion groups, module-specific knowledge bases, and formative assessment exercises.

Each taught module (20 Credits) is completed over a three month period: three weeks of pre-course reading; the intensive at Sarum College and a further two months to complete the assignment(s).

*Except in the instance of a bank holiday week, and not in the case of the Dissertation Research Skills Training

Please note: This course demands a real time commitment for individual reading, study and written work. This involves preparatory reading prior to each teaching week and significant work afterwards to complete the additional reading and written work.

How To Choose Your Optional Modules

Please note that in addition to the Core (Compulsory) Module, five Optional Modules are needed to complete the Postgraduate Diploma. These may be obtained in the following ways.

1. Choosing five of the Optional Modules offered in the Christian Liturgy programme at Sarum College.
2. Substituting one Optional Module from one of the three other MA programme at Sarum College.

Students may only take one external Optional Module (from another of the Sarum MA programmes) and this must be agreed by the relevant Programme Leaders.

Attending Modules as General Study Courses (normally referred to as Auditing)

Students may attend modules in addition to those which they are studying for credit, by permission of the Programme Leader. The hospitality rates will be the usual student rates which are currently £226 (residential, en-suite), £187 (residential, standard) and £53 (non-residential), with an added administration fee of £35. Please note that students must give clear information on whether they are attending modules as part of their accredited study in advance of attendance. Should the module be oversubscribed, preference will be given to students taking the module for credit. Note: all fees and prices will be reviewed at the beginning of July each year
